Thank you to my children who have gone through great and not so great times with me, leaving us with love and respect for each other. Thanks to my friends: Denise, for writing the foreward for this first book, Nancy and Peggy, who helped edit, and those who have encouraged me. Thank God for using every bit of my life to teach me and lift other women up.

Foreward

There Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15 are times in life when our shattered dreams leave us speechless; sorrow and loss immobilize us; and hurt devastates us. When we turn to others for comfort it is difficult to find help. It is not because others do not want to comfort us, but because others have not experienced our pain. They lack appreciation for the depth of our suffering. At other times, they cannot endure the continued discomfort of our pain, because they are experiencing their own lives. Although these people should not be condemned for lacking understanding, it leaves those who are in the trenches unable to find Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15 solace.

Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15

In the Psalms one can find shattered dreams and sorrow, solace and comfort. This book of the Bible has it all. Psalms was written by several authors and many sections were written at times of loss Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15 and devastation. However, through the disappointment, the writers often find comfort in God. The book of Psalms provides hope to its readers who are on a difficult journey.

Gina Tiritilli has written a devotional for the Psalms with a particular audience in mind, a single mother faced with raising her Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15 children, mostly alone, with little support, and many challenges. Many moms have intense feelings as they raise their children. Sometimes moms are filled with guilt, worry, and hope. A single mom raises her children the same way but with more intense feelings. Gina is a single mom. She understands the challenges that single mothers face especially if they have had to deal with the guilt of divorce, choosing the wrong man, and hoping for a better life for her children in spite of the circumstances. Gina writes these devotionals from her experience. Her openness, challenges, successes, and stories will motivate even the most Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15 devastated of mothers. When faced with difficult circumstances and obstacles, Gina chooses to live in Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15 peace. She searched for answers and surrounded her kids with acceptance, love, and understanding.

Although Gina raised her children in one of the most affluent areas in the United States with very little income, her now-adult children are content, well-rounded, and happy. Her story is one of hope, trust in God, and peace. Her faith in God will motivate Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15 those whose hurdles seem insurmountable.

Introduction

For every victory we've had in life, there has been a battle. For every shadow we experience, there is a source of light somewhere near. These can be uncomfortable at the very least, and often they are unnerving or devastating.

As women, we have several components in play at all times. Emotions, thoughts, ideas, dreams and the health Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15 of our spirit are affected by almost every interaction with others, no matter how hard we try to keep them apart. We were created to be wholly/holy connected and fully involved. The business of living interferes with being integrated in this way much of the time; expected actions and choices promote stuffing part of who we are on a shelf somewhere. Work environments that don't encourage an interpersonal culture, keeping up with caring for family, and Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15 sadly, even the process of finding a few good, trustworthy friends can all add to building barriers in the name of self-protection.

Two of the more destructive culprits are abuse in a relationship and divorce/dual parenting as a single mom. No matter what the challenge is or what our feelings are, we can find our Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15 Truth and our Anchor in Psalms. Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15 As David and other writers journeyed along some rocky roads, we can find a way to relate our struggles as well as comfort in prayer and meditation on one Psalm at a time. In my own journaling for over 30 years, a method of reading and reflecting evolved that has been helpful in opening my heart, mind and spirit

Psalm 1

<sup>1</sup> Blessed is the one who does not walk in step with the wicked or stand in the way that sinners take or sit in the company of mockers, <sup>2</sup> but whose delight is in the law of the Lord,
    and who meditates on his law day and night.
<sup>3</sup> That person is like a tree planted by streams of water, which yields its fruit in season and whose leaf does not wither—whatever they do prospers.

<sup>4</sup> Not so the wicked!
    They are like chaff
    that the wind blows away.
<sup>5</sup> Therefore the wicked will not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.

    but the way of the wicked leads to destruction.

Many times and circumstances in life can make us feel as if we will just wither or wilt, leaving us parched and dry, we can only hope for the occasional oasis along the way. Psalm One shows us the contrast between being full of faith, living near the source of a constant stream, and drifting away from faith and the consistent fullness of God's presence.

Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15

When I first became a single mom, I didn't know there were differences in how we live our faith. Having grown up entrenched in a religion Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15 that recited prayers, there was an emotional blockage that became painfully apparent when I chose to let Jesus become the LORD of my life and follow Him in a new way. The small church I attended had split apart, more like it exploded, because of human error and difficulty. As I was already in a fragile place, this set in motion another cycle of lack of trust and where to put that trust when there was even a glimmer of hope. We need to be clear about where our source of refreshment and renewal is found. In this Psalm, the line is drawn. We are either finding our daily strength (bread) by delighting in our relationship with God and meditation on His Word, or we travel Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15 parched, hoping to crawl from one oasis to another without being scorched by the burning sand (circumstances). Take a few moments to survey your position. If you find that it's time to produce and prosper, then Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15 make a permanent move to the stream of living (ever Devos for Single Moms and Mighty Women, Psalms 1-15 flowing) water.
