CHAPTER ONE: AUTHOR PAGE

Many of us find time difficult to understand our friends and colleagues at work or even in other social grouping. You will find a friend who making How You Measure Your Life, Your Self Esteem?: Discover Quick Secrets of a Charmed Life & Leave your mark. a small joke with him or her is a trouble. There are kind of people who when you tell them that their dress is good, they think you are just flattering them. When you tell them that the kind of makeup they have applied is good but would have suited more people with a different skin completion and they will go home, take shower and apply a different thing immediately. You cannot tell them they are beautiful, they just won't take it kind.

Such among much other behaviour makes it difficult for us to know the kind of people we deal with and to position well to handle them as people around us. The question we need to ask is what goes on with them? Why do they just can't behave like other people who when you tell them that they are beautiful, they take you for your word? When you tell them a dress doesn't fit their body structure, they take it kindly and next time looks for a better dress? This is the subject we want to address in this book, the subject of self esteem. What is self esteem? How You Measure Your Life, Your Self Esteem?: Discover Quick Secrets of a Charmed Life & Leave your mark. Many of us have heard other people saying that some of their friends have self esteem issues and that they need to get help handle such issues?

Some comment that the so and so behave so because of low How You Measure Your Life, Your Self Esteem?: Discover Quick Secrets of a Charmed Life & Leave your mark. self esteem? Lack thereof self esteem has also been characterised by the feeling on insecurity by people in position. They just feel not in control and a small thing or occurrence can bring them such a challenge to the position or job their How You Measure Your Life, Your Self Esteem?: Discover Quick Secrets of a Charmed Life & Leave your mark. doing. They tend to be over-controlling just to try sustaining the fear of insecurity. What is self esteem?

Scholars in this field agree that self esteem is the way we value ourselves or the way we see ourselves to the world and how valuable we believe we are to others. The explanation I find more interesting and which I want to look at when dealing with this topic is How You Measure Your Life, Your Self Esteem?: Discover Quick Secrets of a Charmed Life & Leave your mark. that self esteem refers to a person's overall biased emotional analysis of himself or herself How You Measure Your Life, Your Self Esteem?: Discover Quick Secrets of a Charmed Life & Leave your mark. own worth.

What are you seeing coming out of this explanation? Self esteem is about how a person evaluates himself or herself to the world in terms of her worth. You subjectively look at how much you matter, how you look, and the end result in most cases is a low self rating or a high self rating, both of which may be subjective.

Self esteem is very important to all of us as human beings. Am How You Measure Your Life, Your Self Esteem?: Discover Quick Secrets of a Charmed Life & Leave your mark. not sure but i think even animals rely on self esteem to make certain judgements on whether to go for something or not. That is why you would see an animal decides to attack another one even though the one it's attacking is much stronger. It's the self esteem which brings that confidence.

Self esteem brings in us some confidence or lack of it. When you have high self esteem, you How You Measure Your Life, Your Self Esteem?: Discover Quick Secrets of a Charmed Life & Leave your mark. will be having a lot of confidence in ourselves, in what you are able to do, how valuable you are as compared to others and generally you will be operating very confidence and in control. When you How You Measure Your Life, Your Self Esteem?: Discover Quick Secrets of a Charmed Life & Leave your mark. have low self esteem, chances are your level of confidence will be low if not so low. You not are sure of yourself, what you are able to do and not do and generally you will leave a life How You Measure Your Life, Your Self Esteem?: Discover Quick Secrets of a Charmed Life & Leave your mark. so vulnerable. Self esteem also affects a person control over her or him. When you have high self esteem, you are likely to be in control of what goes on in your life, in terms of what you are doing, what you allow people to do to you and how they do it. You will have a firm stand on what you accept, how you accept it and what you don't accept. You will not be easily be diverted into things you did not plan to take part in. People of low self esteem tend to have less control over them. They tend to be swayed into believing things, doing things, supporting or not supporting things so easily. They doubt their judgement and tend to trust more the judgement of others. They believe less in what they settle to do and any dissenting view will make them drop the idea or do what the dissenting view says. They are How You Measure Your Life, Your Self Esteem?: Discover Quick Secrets of a Charmed Life & Leave your mark. also not firm in what they resolve to do. Low self esteem people rely majorly on other people's opinion to figure out what they are supposed to do. A story is told of a certain lady who was in college doing a business How You Measure Your Life, Your Self Esteem?: Discover Quick Secrets of a Charmed Life & Leave your mark. course. The lady had the material wealth she inherited from the father. She was in her later twenties or early thirties and most of her classmates were nearly twenty, just fresh from high school. This lady appeared so normal in class except that two behaviours were noticed of her.

One of the behaviours was that she did not like people to compliment her dressing as good. Every time you would tell her that her dress was good; she would reject that statement by saying "stop flattering me". At that time, her classmates did not understand why she would say so but anyway at that stage, people care less so life went on. The second thing I noticed was that she did not like to be a called a "madam" or a lady. Whenever you call her madam, she would feel offended and confront you later to tell you she is not a madam. She you call her a lady she would tell you she is not one yet. The question her colleagues did not understand was why she was behaving so?

Am sure looking at people around you, you will release that there are so many people with self esteem issues for which they need help. There are also people with over self esteem challenge. They are people who believe they know it all, all the time. No time will they be wrong and accept to be wrong. They simply believe they have solution to literally everything and anything. Their concept of consultation is so misplaced that they thing people need to How You Measure Your Life, Your Self Esteem?: Discover Quick Secrets of a Charmed Life & Leave your mark. consult them all the time and no time should they consult others. This is a negative self esteem issue.
