“The greatest thing you’ll ever learn is to love and be loved in return.”

Eden Ahbez – Nature Boy

Chapter 1

“Oh, I don’t know how SILVER DADDY SILVER DADDY you manage to SILVER DADDY get so lucky, Jerry. SILVER DADDY He’s adorable.”

“You think that’s adorable? You should see Danny in bed with nothing on but a rock-hard erection and that gorgeous smile of his beaming back at you, Michael. Now that, my friend, is adorable. I’m getting wood just thinking about it.”

“And you met this sweet child on line?”

The site was typical of gay hook-up media with the requisite nude photos and overblown personal descriptions along with exaggerations of size and a lot of fudging on age. Most of the time it was where expectations of new loves or conquests lingered like puffy clouds SILVER DADDY in the sky only to quickly dissipate with the next gust of wind and a new pretty face – but every now and then luck entered into the picture and SILVER DADDY wishful anticipations magically materialized into the blissful reality of meeting someone new who magically came into and shook up your world.

* * * * *

“I’ve been trying to tell SILVER DADDY you there’s no better way to meet these hot-looking guys who for some unknown reason what to be with old farts like me. SILVER DADDY It’s a pure mystery, but I’m certainly not going to argue. We’ve only been together twice, but this young man’s the delight of my life.”

“More like boy don’t you think? What is he, nineteen?”

“Actually he’s only eighteen which means there’s a mere forty-two-year difference in our ages. He’s just what this old man needed to spice up his dull and dreary life.”

“Your life’s seldom been dull and as far as I can remember it’s never been dreary. You’re ever the supreme whore, aren’t you? Other than the wild sex you’re obviously enjoying the two of you can’t have much in common. What can you possibly even talk about?”

“When I’m with him there are much better things to do than talk. Believe me, SILVER DADDY that boy gives great head and the most glorious fuck I’ve had in my life, with the possible exception of present company. As you well know, I’ve had more than my share of both.”

“Well when am I going to meet this new sex toy? You’re certainly not thinking of keeping him hidden away are you? Now that I’ve seen his picture I have to meet him. Surely that picture flatters?”

“Oh, believe me, he’s every bit as good-looking and the best thing is he’s one of the sweetest men you’ll ever meet. He’s not the least bit pretentious and SILVER DADDY I honestly don’t think he has a clue about how gorgeous he is. It’s also incredibly hard to believe, but he swears I’m the first man he’s had sex with. Honey, I couldn’t do half the things with anywhere near the panache he’s capable of when I was that age.”

“Now you’ve got me getting wood. It almost sounds too good to be true.”

“Believe what you will, all I can tell you is I have no reason to exaggerate. Danny has it all – fantastic looks, intelligence, common sense beyond his years and a heart of gold. I have to pinch myself now and then to make sure I’m not dreaming.”

“Now don’t take this the wrong way. You know I think you’re one of the most handsome men around and capable of attracting more than your share of good-lookers; but I have to wonder if this guy’s aware of how filthy rich you are and if that has something to do with it.”

“At the beginning I thought so too. I always do. I’ve been taken a SILVER DADDY few times, so it’s just natural to automatically be suspicious and guarded. The thing is I did a little background SILVER DADDY investigating and was quite surprised at what I discovered. Turns out little Danny is the son of oil tycoon Jeremy Franklin and most likely will be the SILVER DADDY sole heir to that vast Petrolco fortune someday. Hell, he’s probably worth ten times what I am. That doesn’t matter much to me since I already have more money than I’ll ever spend, but it does make me cherish all the attention he lavishes. SILVER DADDY On our first date he was absolutely darling and tried to show me in his own charming way he's not out for anything. He actually paid for the lunch. I could see people in the restaurant eyeing Danny up and down, admiring him – and why wouldn't they? He's extremely handsome, exuding a boyish SILVER DADDY charm that's simply killer. I'm sure some were wondering what on earth a gorgeous guy like him was doing with an old geezer like me – and concluded money was surely changing hands somewhere down the line. But why should I care what anybody thought? The sexiest guy in the place was buying me lunch, and nothing else mattered. He's simply a gift from Heaven. As to all those handsome men I've had as part of my life, you know about that better than anyone. You were the best and I'll forever treasure the time we shared. I'm so thankful we've remained friends all these years, and I think we both agree we're better at that than we were as lovers, at least at the end."

"I'm sorry I was such a prick. You of all people didn't deserve what I did. It was the biggest and dumbest mistake I've made in my life. I'm just grateful you had it in your heart to help me through that mess and eventually take me back as your friend."

"You'll always be my friend. They don't come any better. As a matter of SILVER DADDY fact you'll probably be the only one who won't judge my current choice and simply be happy for me. I'm sure at least some of my other friends will feign happiness and then secretly laugh behind my back – pitying the old fool who's obviously being taken in by the young Adonis whose only real interest is getting everything he can out of SILVER DADDY the deal."

Chapter 2

Daniel Franklin never wanted for anything and always enjoyed the benefit of the best life has to offer despite the fact that neither of his parents ever had much time for him. His father, Jeremy, the workaholic C.E.O. of a large oil company, was always on the run and home very little. SILVER DADDY His mother, Celeste, the quintessential SILVER DADDY social butterfly, spent the majority of her SILVER DADDY life attending charity events, dinners and other social functions with the sole intent of furthering her husband's ambitions and thereby her own position and importance in the world.

Danny grew up in the prestigious neighborhood of Highland Park, attended high school there and became the star quarterback of the football team, leading the Blue-and-Gold "Scots" to the State championship playoffs in two consecutive seasons. He cut a striking figure at 6'-1" with a fine-boned face and lips that were not exactly pouty, but well defined. It was a mouth that Jerry Pennington could only believe was created to be wrapped around the engorged head of his cock. Danny's broad shoulders rested on an otherwise slender but well-sculpted body that contained not an ounce of fat. His pale blue eyes reflected a childlike innocence, and those full SILVER DADDY lips parted to produce a friendly smile that spontaneously exhibited a set of even white teeth. Chiseled facial features and high cheek bones were enhanced by a full head of dishwater blond hair that even in tousled disarray was something to behold. To top it all, his body exhibited a glowing ruddiness thanks to endless hours spent in the sizzling Texas sun. In short, he was fucking gorgeous.

Because his father was seldom around and his mother always too busy, Danny had grown up under the guidance of his grandfather, William. Try as he might and as hard as he searched, William had never found the answer to how his son Jeremy had turned into the ultra-conservative, right-wing fanatic asshole that he'd become. A great deal, no doubt, had to do with his wife's family, but there was more to it than that. Celeste had certainly done her part through the years to change his son into someone William no longer recognized. William didn't know another man on Earth more pussy-whipped than Jeremy.

While William still dearly missed his wife, Rachael, he felt happy she'd never seen the monster her son had turned out to be. At the SILVER DADDY same time he felt great sorrow that she missed the joy of witnessing what a fine young man Danny had become. Just before she died in a car accident, when Danny was just about to turn twelve, she had made the observation to William that their grandson was certainly going to be a lady killer. Then she had surprised him by wondering aloud if it was really going to be the ladies who would attract his attention. Even at Danny's early age she had recognized the distinct possibility he was gay.

Danny had always been William's SILVER DADDY pride and joy, and after the accident he had taken an ever increasing SILVER DADDY role in raising his grandson. He had been the one to guide Danny into his early teenage years SILVER DADDY and encourage and help him develop into the SILVER DADDY great football player he'd become. The two spent countless hours together enjoying fishing and SILVER DADDY hunting trips and the pleasure of each other's company. William had always been the one Danny SILVER DADDY could confide in whenever he was going through a troublesome time in his life and always the one to see him through it. Danny held a deep affection for his grandfather and it was because of their close relationship that he had revealed his homosexuality when turning seventeen.

Having been exposed to the ugly and sometimes corrupt dealings of the business world from an early age, Danny had no real interest or use for any of it. Though his father's career meant little to him, he did realize that being gay could present a serious problem for Jeremy were that to become public knowledge. With that potential damage in mind, he had elected to keep his homosexuality a secret from his parents and had always made the effort to hide that part of himself from everyone else. Being the epitome of the butch football player made that easy to do, and no one had ever come close to imagining the possibility. His grandfather was the only person he had ever told, and as suspected, William had taken him into his arms and told him that he had known for some time that Danny was gay and wondered when he would finally realize it for himself. He assured his grandson that his revelation in no way changed SILVER

DADDY how he felt about him and that he would always love him unconditionally.

While their relationship was strictly platonic, Danny had no doubt that was where his attraction for older men had its SILVER DADDY beginning. He was in no way seeking a replacement for his grandfather but had come to realize, without doubt, that much older men were the ones that turned him on and were his ideal choice for companionship and sexual fulfillment. The minute he saw the picture of Jerry Pennington, a world famous and openly gay artist on the Silver Daddies Web site, Danny knew he had not only found the man he wanted to be with, but the man who could change his life.
